Wendell Castle: Remastered Samantha De Tillio
Wendell Castle Remastered examines the digitally crafted works of Wendell Castle (born 1932), acclaimed figure of the American art furniture movement. In this catalogue accompanying his exhibition at the Museum of Arts and Design, Castle casts a critical eye toward the first decade of his own production by creating a new body of work that revisits his groundbreaking achievements of the 1960s through a contemporary lens. Based on a selection of historically significant works chosen by MAD curator Ron Labaco, Castle has produced new works through his latest practice of combining handcraftsmanship with digital technologies including 3D scanning, 3D modeling and computer-controlled milling. These new works are placed in dialogue with the earlier pieces that inspired them.
